Community and Home Care

Your home
your care your way

Monash Health offers you a broad range of personalised home care services so you can live where you choose on your terms. We know you value your independence, and sometimes all you need is a helping hand. We have services to help you at home, to help with your health and to get you out and about. Whether that is someone assisting with your podiatry needs or providing you with home physiotherapy support, we are here for you.

How we work with you

Our dedicated team understands that staying at home is important to you. It is equally important to us which is why we take the time to get to know you and understand the care you may require. Whether you need basic care or clinical services for support, we have a range of home assistance services and people to work with you.

We then tailor a flexible support plan around your circumstances, your needs and your interests so you can continue living at home. Our one on one support means that, as your circumstances change, we do too. Together we create a support plan that will meet your needs today, and give you the flexibility to adapt it into the future.
